Barbara's Hall Report:

Thanks to Leftover City, we had a nice big bowl of tortilla chips and salsa to go with it! Ok, it was good enough for a low turnout July 4th weekend! Prieslers brought 2 packages of red, white and blue decorated cupcakes. Savanna did the dishes and helped with the clean up. Hope everyone had a safe Independence Day and flew their flag!

Saints of the Week

Massabki Brothers, July 10

Francis, Raphael and Abdel Massabki, three Maronite brothers who were martyred on July 10 in 1860 in the city of Damascus. The brothers came from an extended family that was both successful and pious. The Muslim sheikhs of Damascus referred to the Massabki clan as people who joined in prayer and spiritual reading every night in their homes. The brothers were all married men with large families. They were each devout in their personal prayer lives, and attended both the Latin rite Franciscan friary Mass and their own Maronite Qurbana/ Divine Liturgy.

In 1860, Syria was swept by a fierce anti-Christian purge in which 11,000 Christians were murdered in Damascus itself and over 12,000 in Lebanon. The Turkish army stood by, its only actions being robbing the Christian refugees, as radical Muslims and the Druze both rose up and falsely accused the native Christians of being in league with foreign powers by virtue of their faith.

It was a situation somewhat similar to the atrocities of today; there were some moderate Muslims who intervened to save whole families, including Abdel Kader who saved 1,000 souls himself. But these were outnumbered by fanatics and thieves. The Massabki Brothers were offered their lives and wealth if they would convert to Islam: were they to do so, it would have weakened Christian resolve. They refused, and all three were beheaded and their blood mixed with that of eight Franciscan friars. All eleven were beatified by Pope Pius XI in 1926.

St. Olga, July 11

Great Princess Helga (+963) of the ruling family of Kiev-Rus', known in Slavonic as Olga, became the first Christian ruler. Saint Olga, Equal of the Apostles, brought the Christian community to new heights of importance and popularity in the 10th century.

Christianity had a large following in Kiev due to the efforts of Greek missionaries, but none of the Varangian ruling class embraced the Faith until Olga did, in Constantinople itself. As the widow of Prince Igor, Olga worked at strengthening the political situation of Kiev in relation to the other Rus' principalities for her son Svyatoslav, and advancing civilization with the introduction of stone buildings and foreign learning.

Her establishment of forts throughout the land as a pagan ruler later became the basis of parishes after her introduction of missionaries on a national scale. Olga sought to have her son follow her in the Faith. He would not, but her grandson was to be St. Vladimir the Great, through whom the Church would finally become a national institution.
